

Shelby County Reporter, Thursday, 7 June 1923

MUCH BUILDING IN MONTEVALLO

W.B. Reynolds is just completing a handsome brick residence that for general convenience and attractiveness is not equaled in this section of Alabama. Mr. Reynolds used great care in the selection of the material for his new home and only the most expert workmanship went into it. As a result he has a home that would be highly creditable to any community.

Birmingham News, 26 November 1922

Everyone knows that Montevallo is a delightful place of residence... The most expensive one, however, is being built by W.B. Reynolds. Montevallo's "globe trotter" who is one of the best posted men on world events in the state. The writer [Frank Willis Barnett] called by to pay his respects and was rewarded with seeing a rose garden in full bloom. There were enough lovely full blown roses and buds to make the fortune of a city florist, and yet here in Montevallo they were proudly and bravely blooming out in the open air.

Photo courtesy of Richard O'Rourke - given to Janice Seaman, 540 Shelby Street, now the Fox and Pheasant Bed and Breakfast Inn.

540 Shelby Street • Montevallo, AL 35115
www.historicmontevallo.org